DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-4, 7, 8, 9, 11, 13; 15-17 (in part); 18, 19, drawn to nucleic acids, compositions and methods of use, classified in class 514, subclass 44 for example.
- II. Claims 5, 10, 12; 15-17 (in part), drawn to polypeptides and compositions, classified in class 424, subclass 221.1 for example.
- III. Claims 6, 14, drawn to antibody and compositions, classified in class 424, subclass 139.1 for example.

Election of species is also required.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Although there are no provisions under the section for "Relationship of Inventions" in MPEP §806.05 for inventive groups that are directed to different products, restriction is deemed to be proper because these products constitute apparently distinct inventions for the following reasons: the polynucleotides of groups I, the polypeptides of group II, and the antibodies of group III are chemically distinct products unrelated in sequence and separately classified having separate fields of search. The products of each group (I, II, III or IV) can be independently synthesized by chemical means. An antibody is encoded by an entirely different DNA than that of the protein which is bound by that antibody, and the primary sequence of the antibody bears no relationship to the sequence of the detected protein. Each of the products have separate, unrelated uses and are not disclosed as being capable of use together. Further, It would place undue burden on the examiner to examine several independent inventions in one application.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and the search for one group is not required for any other group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Groups I, II, and III are each generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising SEQ ID Nos. 1-11 (the ncuelci acid itself for group I, the encoded product for group II, the binding antibody in group III). Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

The species are seen as patentably distinct because each involves a different portion of the SARS genome, without any structure shared between the species. A reference teaching one species would not teach or suggest any of the other species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
